The fact that this Amhibole Quartz , AKA Know as Rooster Tail, has been struck by lightning, makes this a very unique collection. The lightning strike aids in creating a divine mind, enlightenment, kundalini awakening, and celestial connection beyond most crystals.

Some people have compared Amphibole Quartz to Rooster Tail Quartz. The Rooster Tail does have some of the same properties and the Amphibole; such as limonite, kaolinite, lithium and hematite. This Rooster Tail quartz had been struck by lightning

Traditional white Phantom Quartz has a definite crystal shape growing within the crystal up to the apex.

In the case of Amphibole Quartz, the phantom is not neat at all. This is why this type of quartz are called Angel Quartz, Angel Wing, Guardian Angel Phantom quartz, or Angel Phantom Quartz - because the amphibole minerals are often quite layered, much heavier, and "swipe" through the Quartz point

Lithium often pink, or Hematite providing the red. Most of my pieces display white, red, and some fainter hues of reds and pinks.
